

(Left) Rainy weather did not stop the youngsters at left, who were among the thousands of area children participating in The Press National Marble Tourney Finals and Junior Balloon Race held at Euclid Beach on Saturday, June 7, 1931. Prizes of $5, $3 and $2 were distributed to the owners, and finders, of the balloons traveling the greatest distance after being released. Edward Kovac of Euclid won an all-expense paid trip to the national marbles tournament in Ocean City, New Jersey, after beating 30 silver medal winners to capture the marbles tournament.

(Left, Far left) Over 2,500 youngsters from 16 area children's homes, including the youngsters far left and the two cute 5-year-olds at left, enjoyed "a big spree from the merry-go-round to chute-the-chutes and popcorn and peanuts and candy cane," during the American Automobile Club's annual youth outing at Euclid Beach on Tuesday, July 2, 1957.

Euclid Beach Youth Days
