

Press Release: New Public Affairs Television Show, "Ask the Judge"

The Celebrezze-Zanghi Community Legal Education Project Inc., (CZ-CLEP), is proud to announce a new public affairs television show. The new show, Ask the Judge, will be seen on community access television channel(s) in Medina County. With Ask the Judge citizens actually participate by asking questions of a sitting judge. The questions range from fundamental to complex, including thorough explanations of crime classifications, sentencing and jury instructions. The show will give viewers an opportunity to compare questions asked by their friends and neighbors to their own. Anyone can participate by e-mailing a question via the project site at www.czclep.org.

This is the second community access show produced by CZ-CLEP. The other show, Law Talk, is hosted by CZ-CLEP co-founder, John Celebrezze. Mr. Celebrezze is a retired public school administrator, adjunct professor and he is also an attorney.

In addition to producing television shows, CZ-CLEP distributes a weekly email newsletter written by Judge James Kimbler; conducts seminars for attorneys; and is developing a program to help train trial attorneys. CZ-CLEP is a non-profit corporation and is a 501 (c) (3) charitable organization under Internal Revenue federal tax regulations.
